

American Friends of ALYN Hospital
DONOR PRIVACY POLICY

The American Friends of ALYN Hospital respects the privacy of our donors. We do not sell or otherwise make available the names and contact information of our donors, except where disclosure is required by law [without providing them an opportunity at least once a year to opt out of the use of their names and contact information].

The American Friends of ALYN Hospital never sends out any mailings on behalf of other organizations.

The American Friends of ALYN Hospital provides a clear, prominent and easily accessible privacy policy on our website that tells visitors:

1. What information, if any, is being collected about them and how this information will be used;
2. How to access personal information collected and request correction;
3. How to inform the American Friends of ALYN Hospital that the visitor does not wish his/her personal information to be shared outside the organization; and
4. What security measures the American Friends of ALYN Hospital has in place to protect personal information.

In addition to any other requirements of this policy, all fundraising activities for the American Friends of ALYN Hospital ORGANIZATION are conducted in accordance with applicable law.
